

Khang Tran's Biography

Trần Nguyên Khang is a lecturer in the Faculty of International Relations, University of Social Sciences and Humanities, Hồ Chí Minh City. Khang got his Bachelor and Master Degree in Political Science in France (2008). In 2017, he earned his PhD in International Relations, with honors, at the Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam. At USSH, his teaching is mainly focused on Globalization, Global Issues, Power in International Relations and Intercultural Communication. In 2016, Khang was invited as a Guest Lecturer by the University of Findlay, Ohio, USA. Khang's research interests now concentrate on the comparative study of Soft power, and he has published and presented on this topic in domestic as well as international academic journals and conferences. In 2018, his first book came out, a work that covers theoretical and practical issues concerning France's use of soft power. In the same year, Khang was chosen for a research fieldtrip program in Japan to study the soft power of that country.